Dear Chuck,

As you conclude six years of service with the Editorial Board of Studies in Intelligence, the last four as Chairman, I want to congratulate you on a splendid achievement. You have enriched the literature of intelligence.

It is not only six years you have put into it. In your stewardship of the Studies, you have shared the knowledge, sense of mission, and wisdom gained throughout a brilliant career in intelligence to the benefit of all of us in the profession. That sharing of intelligence insights is the purpose of the Studies, as Sherman Kent envisioned it. In the genealogy of intelligence literature, your name stands right up there with his.

Well done!

Yours,

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Mr. Charles A. Briggs
